DEDICATION

To those of you who left Highland Park to sacrifice your lives on the battlefields of Korea, we dedicate this book.

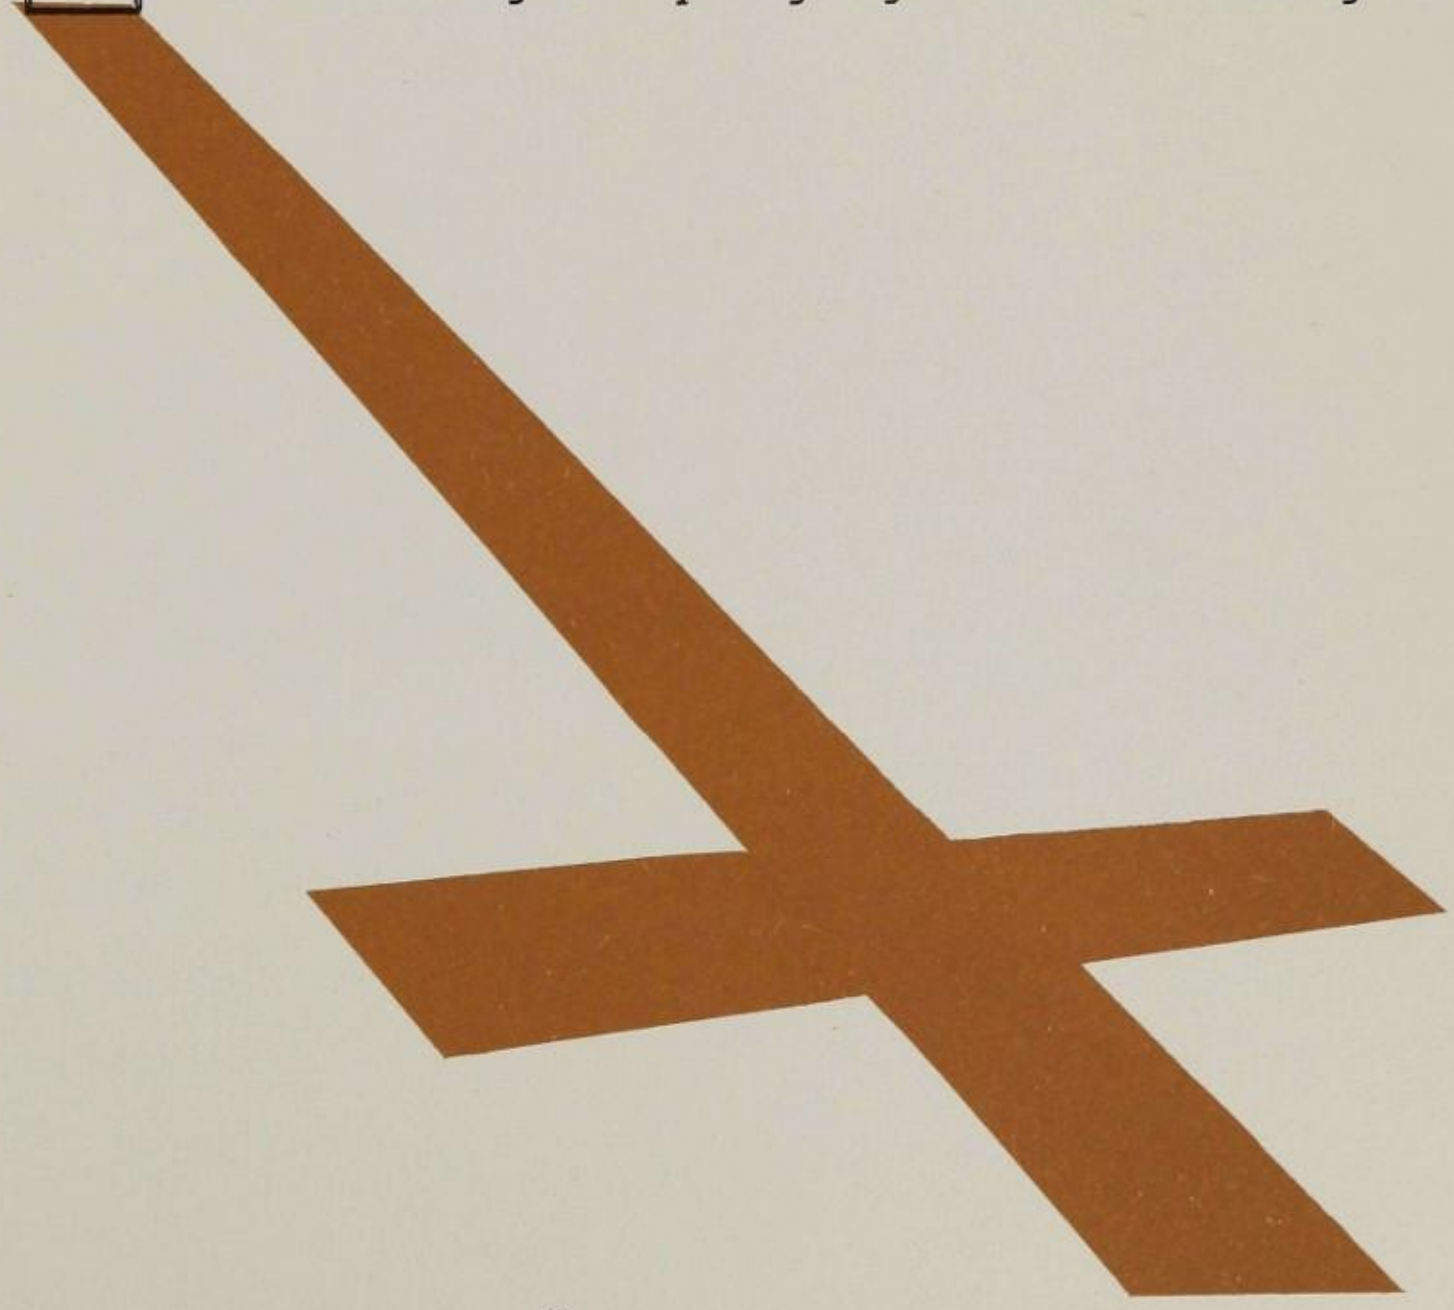
We must never forget your sacrifice and efforts to protect the better things this younger generation IS coming to.



THEY SAID IT THEN . .

WHAT IS

. THEY SAY IT NOW -

THIS YOUNGER GENERATION COMING TO?

. . . those of us who will soon be leaving Highland Park to enter the outside throes; to prove the excellence of our fine schools and careful training;
to show all skeptics the better things
this younger generation IS coming to.

It Isn't ALL Work!

One of the high points of their last days in high school for these smiling seniors was the Class Banquet, held a few days before the commencement exercises in January.

Following their celebration at the class banquet, the Seniors attended their last high school dance, the Senior Prom. The dance was semi-formal, and was held at the Veterans' Memorial Building. Also attending were members of the June graduating class and many alumni.

Student Policy Makers . . .

Highland Park High School's student governing body, the Student Association, has again fulfilled its purpose by continuing to improve the school for students and teachers in the past year. One of the organization's biggest projects for the year, the interschool visitation program for Border Cities League schools, took place at Highland Park when the school was host to delegations from schools in the area around Detroit. The delegates discussed problems common to all of the schools, and talked about athletic plans for next year.

The Student Association was busy in other fields and accomplished a great deal for the good of the school. One of these accomplishments was the new juke-box, purchased for use in the student lunch room. The group sponsors and supervises class elections, and has charge of the various charity drives. The movies, shown to students during lunch hours, is another project. Plans underway for next year include a homecoming program for alumni and a huge pep rally.

Officers of the S.A. are Eric Lindbloom, president; Nedra Bitting, vice-president; Ina Miller, secretary; and Mary Holmes, treasurer. Faculty adviser to the group is Miss Mary Campbell.

. . . Student Policy Makers

The Civic League, formerly the governing body for Lower Division students, has, under the new school organization, been meeting with the Student Association, and aiding in that group's projects. But the Civic League has continued in many worthy projects by itself, in addition to its new responsibilities.

The most successful of these projects was the All-School party, first held last fall, and which will become an annual activity. A dance, held this spring, was an additional part of the group's recreational program.

One of the most important of the Civic League's many activities is the work done by the Sanitation and Safety Committee, which has accomplished much to improve the condition of the school buildings.

The general aims of the organization are to promote safety, help keep the school clean, and sponsor welfare and recreational programs.

The sponsor of the Civic League is Miss Florence Pendell.

One of the primary aims of the Lettermen's Club this term was to build up a sagging treasury. To accomplish this purpose our athletes gave a dance, "The Lettermen's Leap," after the first basketball game of the season. Other club activities included the distribution of programs at the football games, hall duty, and policing at the home basketball games. Baseball coach Frank Pellerin sponsored the club this year, succeeding Arthur Solow.

The Girls' Athletic League continued to be one of the most active clubs around school this year, what with initiation, the selling of Highland Park T-shirts, and other projects. Mrs. Jean Baker was again adviser to the club while Joan Groehm moved from the "Veep" position which she held last year, to the "Prexy" spot. Pat Woltman took over as vice-president with Deborah McKeown as secretary and Celia Leighton as treasurer.

For Better Human Relations . . .

An organization planned to promote good relations between different racial groups in the school, the Intercultural Student Council has presented several interesting projects to the school. The council advisers, Miss Lillian Taylor and Mr. Harvey Jackson, have brought musical exchange assemblies from other schools in the area to Highland Park. The club's most important project is its sponsorship of a Navajo Indian school in the southwest.

Building Body, Spirit, and Mind

The Y-Teens, organized along lines similar to the Y.M.C.A., has worked on many fine projects through the school year. Most of the plans are based on the idea of helping the community. An example of this is the bake sale, held to benefit the Childrens' Hospital.

The president of the Y-Teens is Willie Benson, the treasurer is Bernita Anthony, and the club's supervisor is Mrs. Florence Rosenthal.

Gentlemen of the Press

When the Spectator staff members met for the first time in September, little did they visualize the year ahead of them. With the job of putting out an issue every other week looming before them, the staff, under the direction of Cynthia Stafford, editor-in-chief, did their best to produce a top-notch publication. Editors and faculty adviser, Mrs. Mary Harlan, spent the Tuesday night before publication at the Highland Parker "Putting the Spec to bed," and enjoying every minute of it.

In October the staff attended the annual High School Journalism Conference at Michigan State College. Spec headlines in November and December told of football season, the opening of the basketball season, the fall play, and elections, while in January banners on the Carnival and graduation heralded these events.

February brought the Spec a Freedom Foundations Editorial award—a gold plaque—for Sarah Leuedders', last year's editor-in-chief, editorial "Spec Speaks—on Easter." Representing the Spectator, Cynthia and Mrs. Harlan flew to Valley Forge, Pa., for the presentation ceremonies.

March found the staff busily putting out the issues concerning basketball finals, April saw Don Lyndon, third page editor, off to Europe, and May found graduating seniors with the Washington trip and the University of Michigan Journalism Conference foremost in their minds.

June came all too soon, and as a climax to the year's activities, members of the Spec and Polar Bear staffs held their annual Publications Banquet. Graduating seniors were honored, editors for the coming year were announced, and new members were received into the Addison and Steele chapter of H.P.'s Quill and Scroll, National Journalism Honorary.

From September to spring, the Polar Bear staff was busily scheduling pictures, making page lay-outs, writing copy, and collecting advertisements.

The staff, divided into art and copy sections, is co-edited by Donna Hill and Jim Weber. Art editors were Nancy Klein, Russell Francoeur, Joan Heiden, and Jasmine Salah.

After sending the book to the printer, the staff turned to the job of selling yearbooks to the students. The two sales drives made the Polar Bear a financial success, and much credit goes to the advertising manager, Pat Anderson, who did a splendid job. The staff owes a special tribute to the fine efforts of faculty advisers Mrs. Mary Harlan and Miss Lillian Taylor, who contributed much to the success of the Polar Bear.

FORENSIC CLUB . . . important in preparing its members to face this socially complex world. The 1951-52 season will long be remembered for it was filled with activities such as club parties, field trips, and B.C.L. conferences. By participating in assemblies, members were given a chance to express themselves and develop a feeling of responsibility. Club dances, "The Kick-Off" and "Spinster's Spin," made for more co-operation, leadership, and the enjoyment of working togeth

DEBATING TEAM . . . those who have proved themselves capable of representing Highland Park in the state and Metropolitan League debates. This season the debaters won 11 of their 16 league contests. "Our Town"

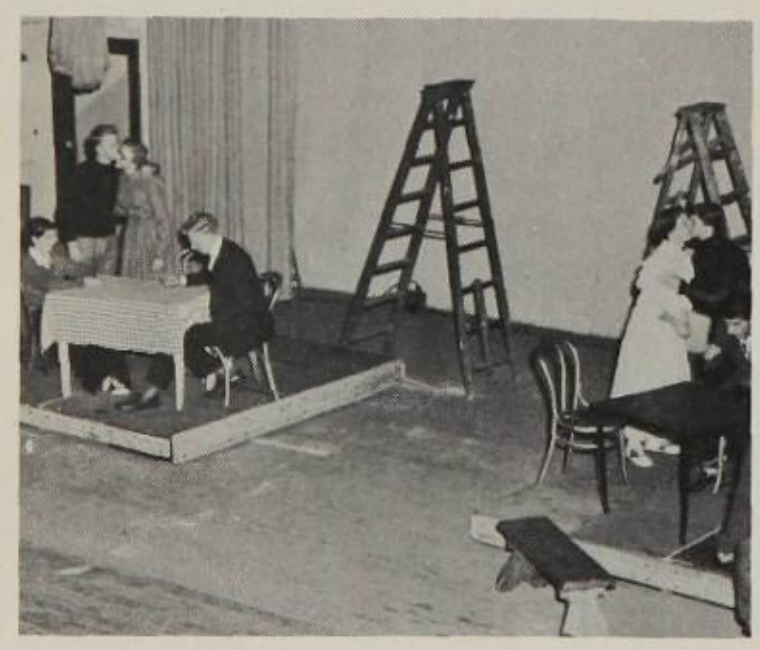
Sharing the honors and duties of Student Directors of "Our Town" were Eleanor Wynn and Mark Fleischmann.

The fall play, "Our Town" differed from most H.P. productions in that the only major props used were two tables and two ladders. The remainder of the setting was left to the spectator's imagination. The scene at the left shows Carolyn Parker portraying the part of Emily in the scene directly after Emily's death. Jane Hamilton portrayed the same role on the following night.

One of the mainstays of "Our Town" was the stage manager, played bv Tom Howell. He also played other parts and here is shown as the man who owns the soda shop reminiscing with Emily (Carolyn Parker) and George (Dick Magel) about the days long ago.



"Our Town," the fifth play directed by Mrs. Gwen Young since her arrival as Highland Park's Dramatics Coach, was, in Mrs. Young's opinion, a production of real artistic achievement. The dramatic lighting effects, musical backgrounds, and homey-clad characterizations combined to produce a play of unusual visual and spiritual beauty.

ABOVE: Judy Green, Dick Magel, Joan Warren, Allen Wood, Jane Hamilton, Nedra Bitting, and Lee Vlisides caught rehearsing a view of morning life in both the Webb and Gibbs homes.

RIGHT: Three of the humorous characters in "Our Town" were the Constable (Lyle Miller), Howie Newsome, the milk man (Dave Boegehold), and the paperboy (Otto Jensen). Here they are shown having an early morning chat about the weather.

A fine job was done by Betty Hardenburg and Ron Johnson, student directors of the school's spring play, "Angel Street."

At the right, Mrs. Manningham (Jane Hamilton) and Elizabeth, the housekeeper (Dorothy Goldstick) clear away the evening dishes while Ruff, (Bill Waites) sets the gas-light for the evening.

"Angel Street"

Many things were discussed over tea by Mrs. Manningham and Ruff concerning the story which goes with the house Mr. Manningham had bought. It seems an old lady had been killed in the very room where they were seated, and some precious jewels had been lost.

The entire cast should be commended for the splendid job they did on "Angel Street." Without all the help of the stage crew the cast could not have done this tremendous jobj, and without the direction of faculty adviser Mrs. Gwen Young the play would have been impossible.

At the left, Mr. Manningham (Lee Vlisides) is attempting another vicious scheme to drive his wife insane. Once his wife is driven out of her mind, Mr. Manningham would be able to search for the jewels without interference. But Ruff is able to stop Manningham from carrying out his plan.

For students with an interest in instrumental music, the high school orchestra provides great opportunities. The orchestra participates in a number of school activities, and has an annual concert each fall. The concert orchestra played in programs for the grade schools, and a group from the orchestra provided the musical background for the opera, the "Mikado." Student soloists in the group are Richard Eshkanian and Janet Ryan. Director of the orchestra is Mr. Dacho Dachoff.

The high school band, directed by Mr. John Blanock, held its annual band concert in March and in addition to playing in many programs out of the school, including the Thanksgiving Day parade, the group played at all Highland Park football games in the fall. The students in the band participate in the group's camping trips, and also have a chance to earn music scolarships, established by the students, and financed by the famous "Tag Day" and other contributions.

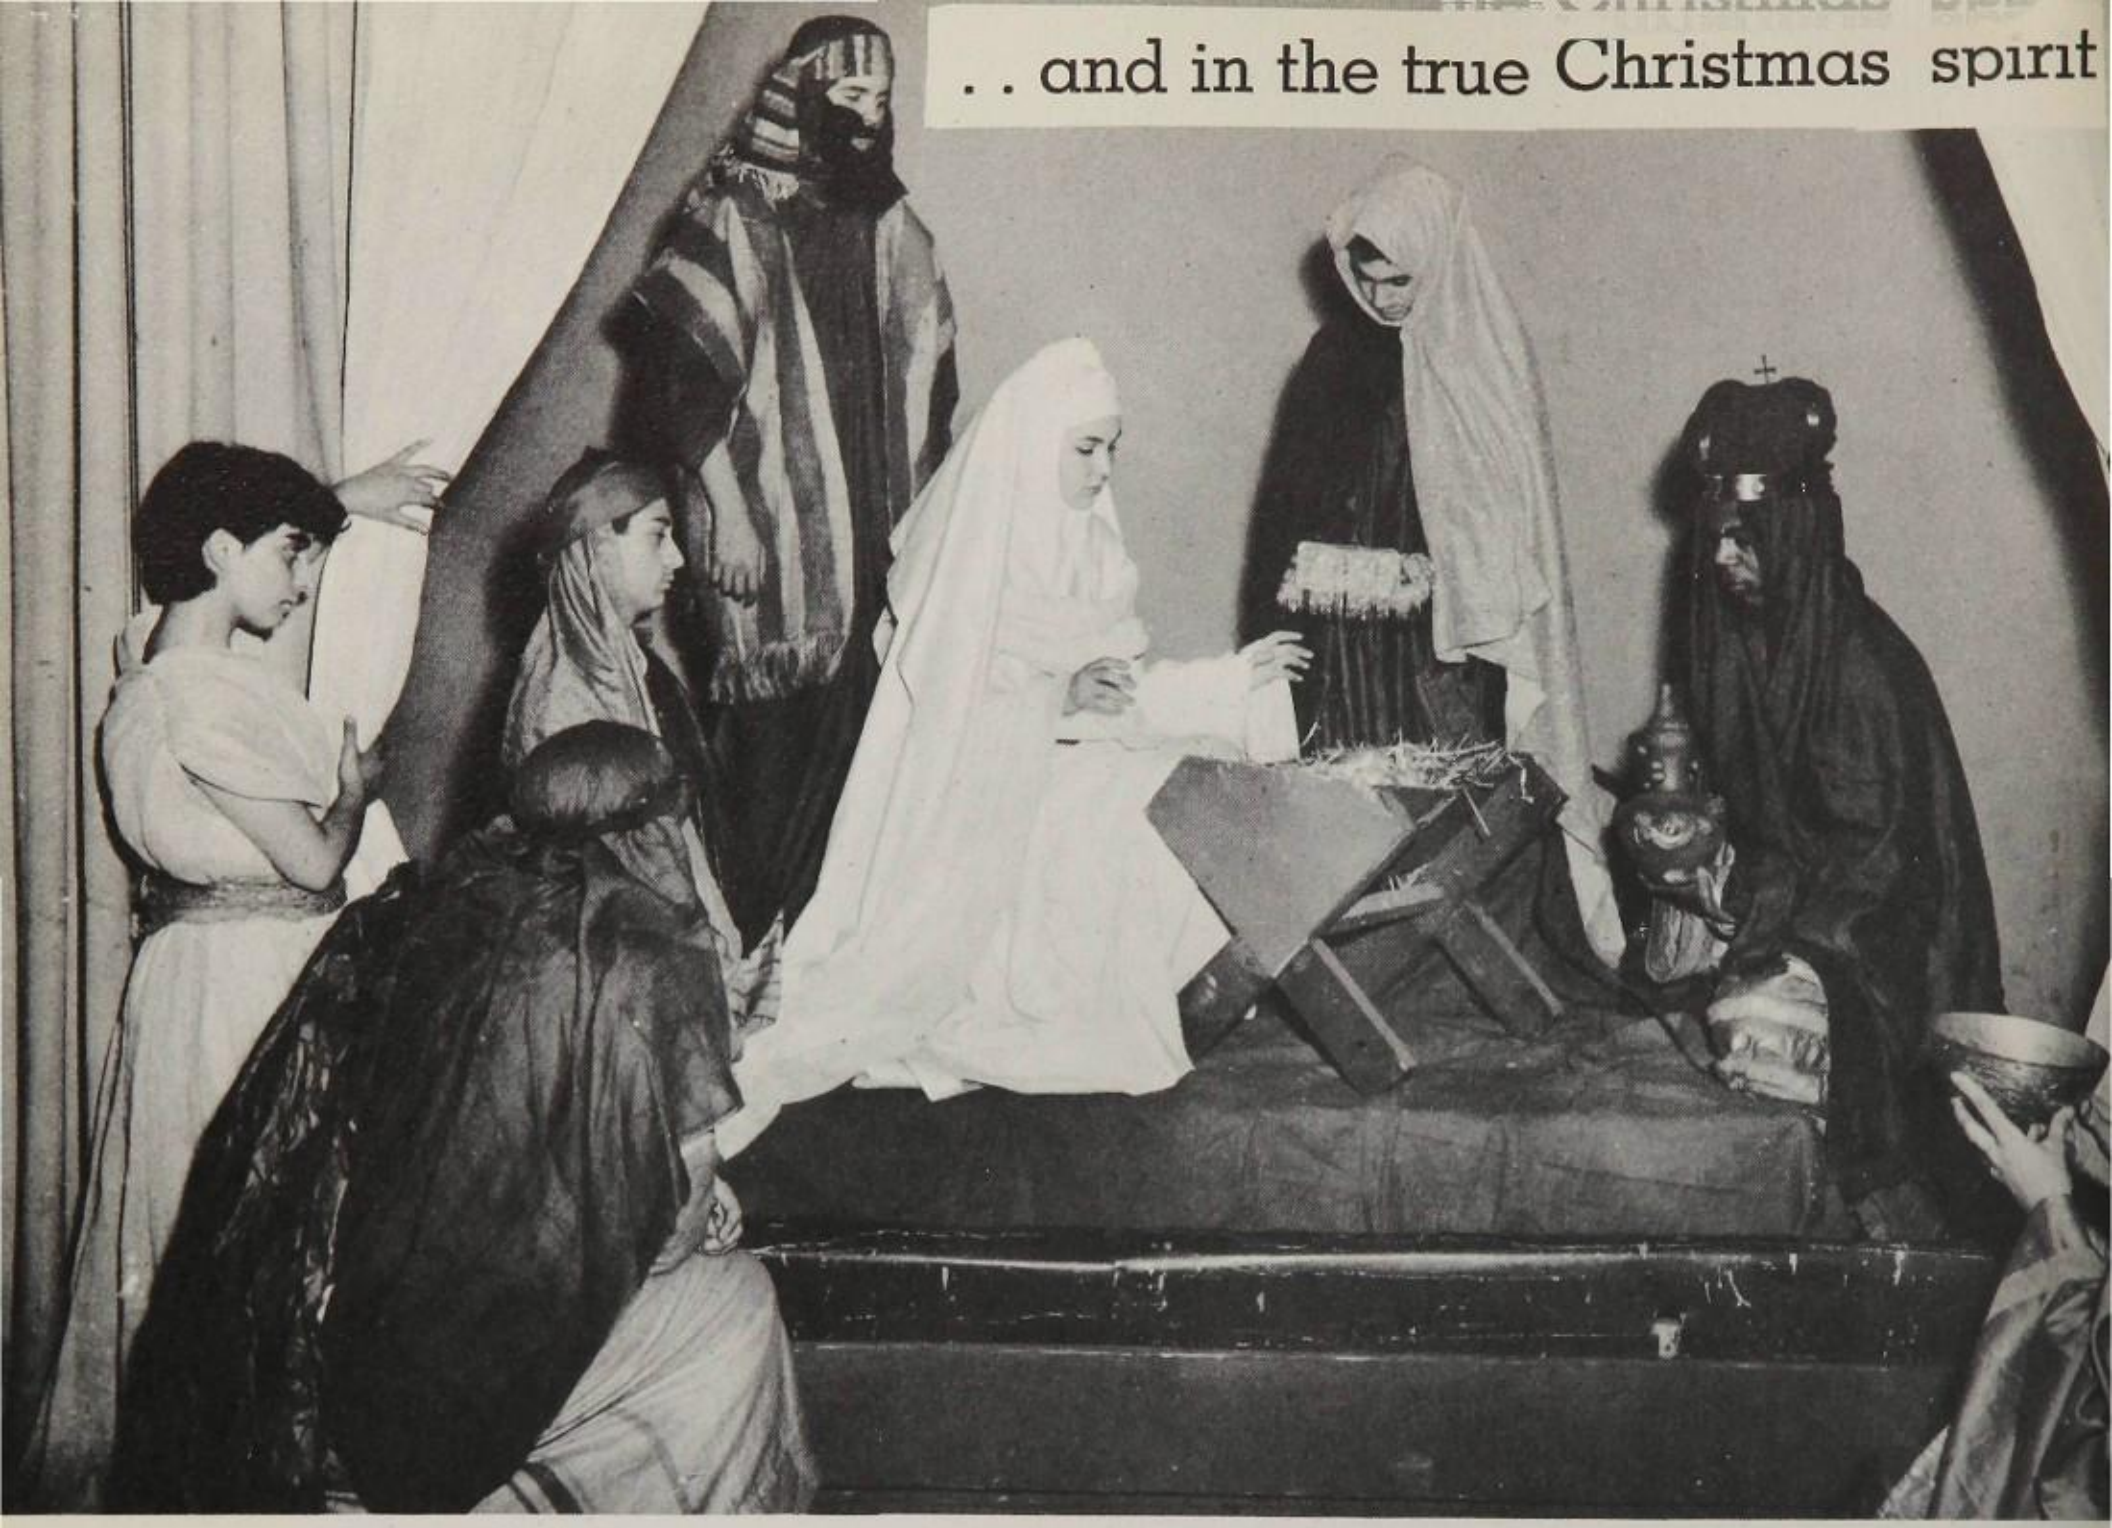
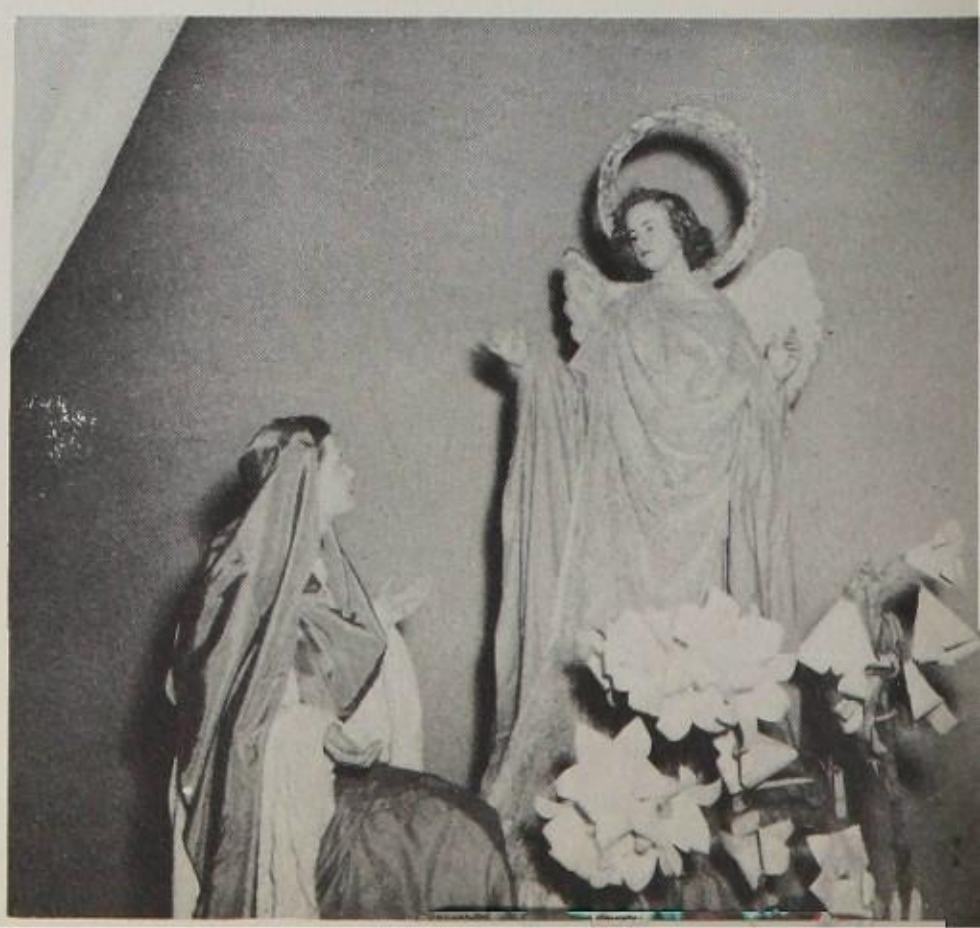
. . and in the true Christmas spirit



Three choirs and several members of the Modern Dance classes were featured in this year's Christmas Pageant, one of Highland Park's most cherished traditions.

The Pageant was given in two sections. The first, or festive portion, consisted of musical numbers by the Concert Choir and the Junior College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Roy Parsons; the Treble Clef Choir under the direction of Mrs. Marion Kintz; ballet numbers by members of Mrs. Janet Lawson's Modern Dance Class; and selections by the Silver Strings Ensemble, under the leadership of Mr. Dacho Dachoff.

The second portion of the Pageant was devoted to the beautiful story of the Nativity. The pictures on this page were taken from three of these Nativity scenes.



Never to be forgotten . . . a brief glimpse into the days of the "Roaring Twenties." With an important purpose and an unusual theme, the Senior Class of fifty-two presented one of the most successful projects ever held within the halls of Highland Park. Every class member who worked on the Carnival deserves credit for the colorful show which was given.

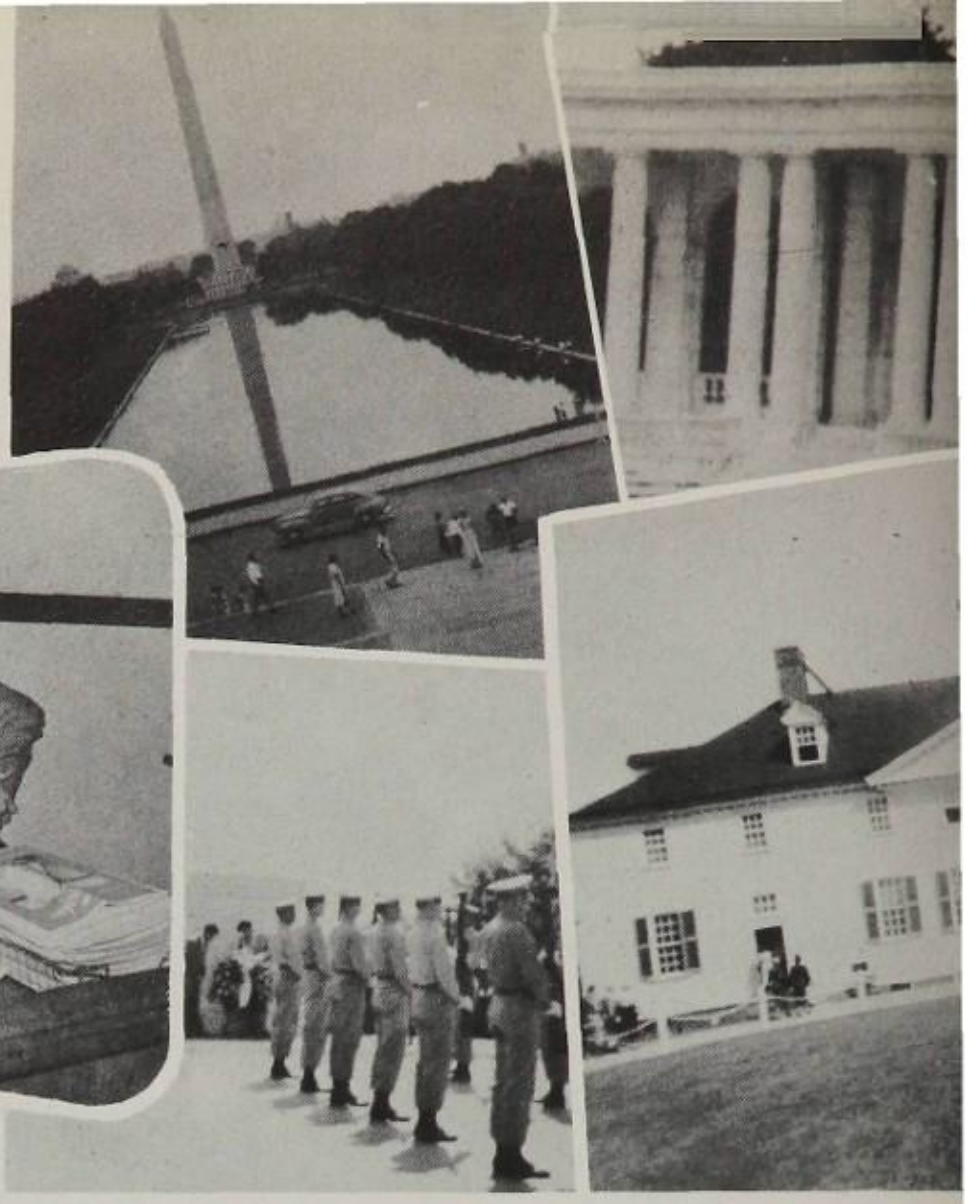
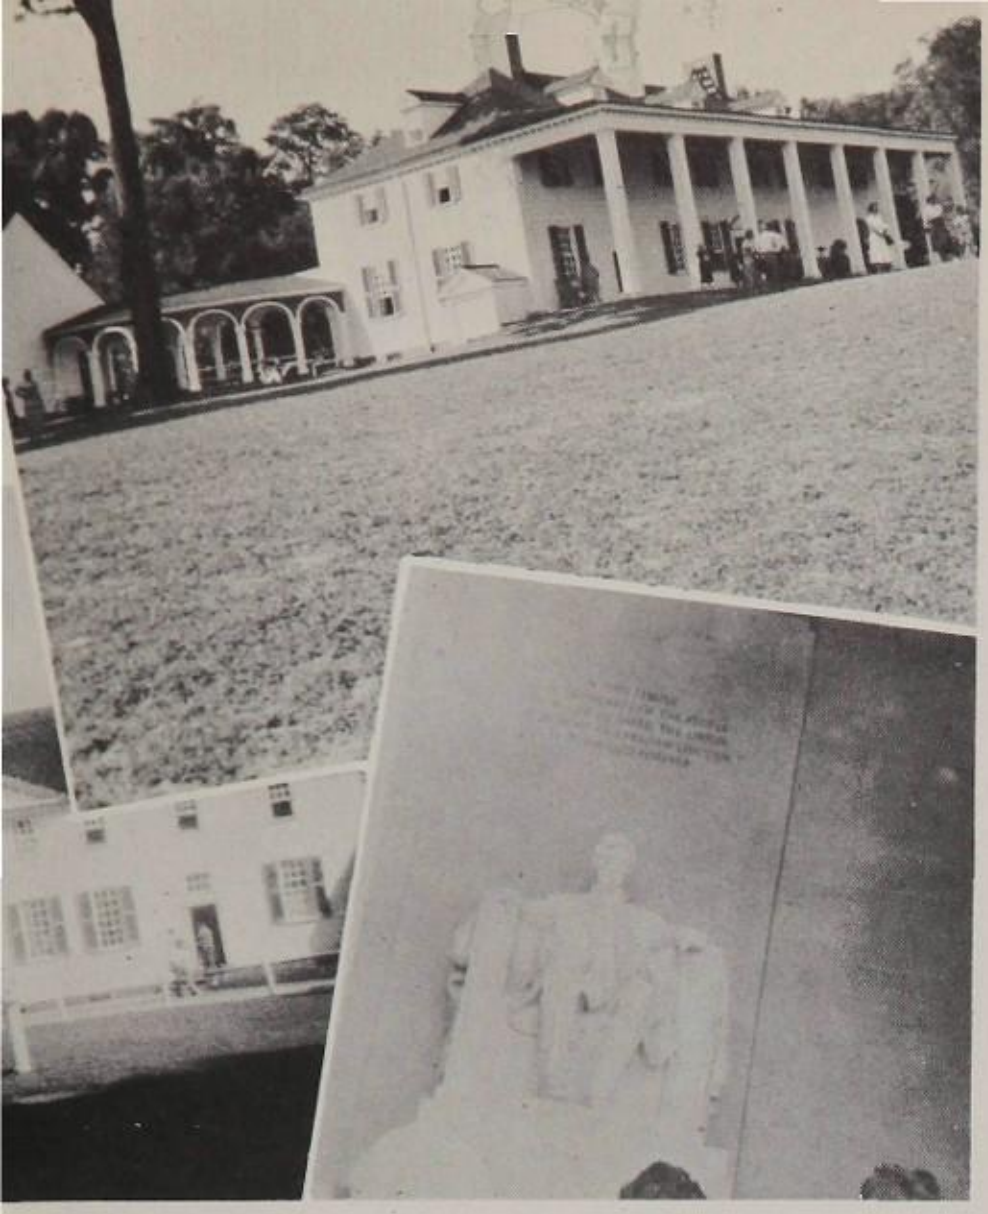
In the Nation's Capital



Counsellors Ann Solomon and Paul Jones discuss Washington Trip plans.

Biggest of all the school sponsored projects is the senior Carnival, which allows all students a chance to work for credits, and gain valuable experience at the same. Shown is the clean-up crew.

Helping one senior group to Washington are the credits earned selling book covers during the school year.



Long after the textbooks and teachers have been forgotten, Parker graduates will remember their Washington trip. First of all, the trip is the result of the combined work of every student. For the first time the seniors have a chance to get to know many more of their classmates as they work together side by side. Of course, the sight of the majestic buildings of the capital city is important; "Trippers" view the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial, Mount Vernon, the Capitol, and other historic sights.

In truth, at Highland Park, the Washington trip is one of the high points of the entire four years in the school, and is looked forward to with ever increasing anticipation as the time for the trip approaches. It is the result of careful planning on the part of the faculty, and the work of the students themselves. Small wonder it is so long remembered!

The big moment arrives at last . . . heels replace saddle shoes, suits replace jeans, and seniors are off to Washington.

Student-sold Christmas cards are a vital part of the fund-raising campaign.

to work together here at Highland Park whether spectator or participant, watch carefully, play carefully, and learn well;
for we will need our agile bodies and keen minds in later creating the better things
this younger generation IS coming to.

Parker Athletes Show Their Skill . . .

The 1951 football team compiled the best record of a Highland Park eleven since their entrance into the Border Cities League back in 1946. The Polar Bears finished in a second-place tie with Fordson, as Wyandotte copped the league title for the second time in three years.

Highland Park won three out of its five B.C.L. games, and tied one. Wyandotte dished out the lone defeat. In non-league play, however, the Parkers found the going a little rough. They were defeated by a powerful Port Huron outfit, and also lost to Lincoln Park. In their only other non-league tilt, the Bears deadlocked Hamtramck, 6-6.

The baton twirler's have always been a real part of the school spirit that gets behind Highland Park sports and cheers them to success. Last year's football games would have seemed incomplete without the half-time entertainment of these high-steppers. Shown at left are the senior baton twirlers who include Julia Rashid, Elaine Valesano, Beverly Sugamosto, Henrietta Van Slyke and Catherine Seman—kneeling. Beverly Sugamosto acted as captain throughout the season.

Blue and White! Fight! Fight!

Members of this year's varsity cheerleading team did a wonderful job, throughout the season, of eliciting deafening cheers from Highland Park's enthusiastic game-goers. From the 60 who entered team tryouts, Petronela Sherban, Captain, Pauline Casey, Lovisa Walsh, Arlene Sheiderick, Phyllis Chisa, and Barbara Clanton, shown at right, were chosen for the varsity team. Lou Brannan, Janet Wickstrom, Cynthia Hart, Donna Snowden, and Mildred Nelson comprise the reserve team. Lovisa Walsh later succeeded Petronella in the duties of team captain.

Also seen and enjoyed by Parkers at football games were the junior baton twirlers. Shown at left they include Virginia Tersian, Arlene Avery, Jeanne Marchildon, Joan Keil and Helen Raytis. This active group represented Highland Park in the city Goodfellow, Christmas, and Halloween parades during the past year. They were also among those groups chosen from various high schools throughout the city to twirl for the Detroit Lion's games at Briggs Stadium.

The Reserve Officer Training Corps, a school-sponsored project in Highland Park, was established to give students who were interested in military programs training which would be valuable to them in future military work.

The chief aim of the group is to instill ideals of proper military knowledge and attitude in high school students.

Reserve Officer Training Corps

The ROTC program consists mainly of marching drills, and instruction in proper military terms of command.

Members are also given practice in the handling of weapons, as shown in the photographs.

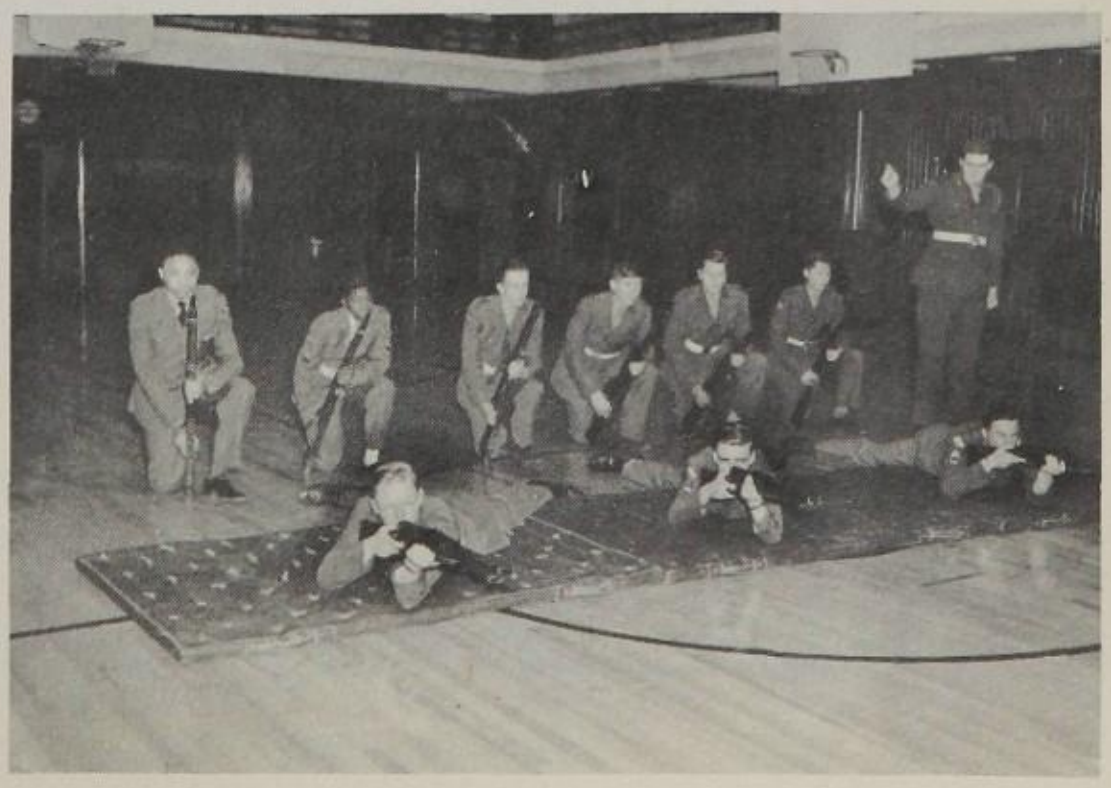
The spirit of the group promotes co-operation and increases the knowledge of the members, making participation in the ROTC activities good training for the future.

Competitive exams are given to applicants to determine fitness and rank in the program.

The examinations are both written and oral, and indicate aptitude to military life, and ability to serve under the program.

Promotions are given according to the merits and abilities of the students.

The ROTC was sponsored by Mr. Richard Berryman for the first semester and by Mr. Leonard Demak for the remainder of the year.



Here are the bosses! Reserve coach Ed McMullin and varsity coach Jim Wink flash big smiles as they look at the 1951-1952 cage season in retrospect.

1952 Class A State Champions

The Red Head and his boys walked off with the big trophy this season.

After sweeping through an unbeaten 14-game regular season, and taking a second straight Border Cities League crown at the same time, Coach Jim Wink and his crew of basketeers started on their long and rough tournament trail.

Some observers thought that the top-seeded Parker cagers would fold under the great tournament pressure which was to follow, but the Red Head and his court specialists knew a little different.

Royal Oak and Hazel Park were the first to feel the Highland Park "tournament punch"—the same punch that opponents got all season long. Then came a previously unbeaten Ferndale team, which the Glendale team blasted, 58-26. The last payment on the Highland Park ticket to Lansing was made on March 19, as the Polar Bears won their quarterfinal test, 48-34, from a stubborn East Detroit outfit.

It was on to Lansing now, for the second season in succession. And this time the Red Head and his boys weren't going to bring back the runner-up trophy.

The Parkers met a tall, sharp-shooting Holland team in the semi-finals. The 9,000 people who witnessed this game called it the greatest comeback in the 27-year history of the tournament, as the Polar Bears, 11 points behind with 2:34 remaining in the game, stormed back to knot the score at 60-all and win 65-62 in an overtime thriller.

The following night, the same group of fighting lads slowed down fast-breaking Saginaw Arthur Hill to walk away with a 43-42 victory plus their first state Class A cage crown.

This was the first time any suburban school had captured a state basketball championship.

In addition to a perfect 20-game season, the Parkers set a few other marks during the campaign.

The team scoring record of 65 points was broken as Highland Park chalked up 66 markers against Royal Oak, and the same total later against Hazel Park.

The old individual scoring mark was also erased as 6-foot 4-inch captain and center Dave Parks threw in 38 points against Fordson on February 22. At season's end, Parks was named to numerous all-state teams in Michigan. The last time a Parker cager received first-team recognition was in 1929.

Joe Carlson, Dave Parks, George Lee, Charles Duncan, George Duncan, Bernard Jones, James Engram, Don Anderson, Don Lisle, Jerry Griffin, Bob Birk, and Coach James Wink had done a thorough job of rewriting a few pages of Highland Park athletic history.

The Red Head and his team will be remembered for a long, long time.

The Parker Pucksters, with a new coach, Mrs. Margaret Lynch, showed a great fighting spirit this year and, in spite of a five loss-one tie record, they did a good job.

Coached by Mrs. Margaret Lynch, the H.P. Cagerettes won only one game, but a strong reserve team gives promise for a better season next year.

Modern Dance

One of the school's many unusual classes is the Modern Dance class, designed as a means of self-expression in response to music. Students in the class, which is directed by Miss Marjory Pieper, are encouraged to create movements as they listen to types of religious, classical, or popular music. This type of dance is a living, growing, and changing dance form, which gives the students poise and builds co-ordination. The girls in the picture below are expressing their feelings as they listen to records during one of the class periods. One of the class's extra activities has been its participation in the Christmas Pageant.

En Garde!

For the fourth straight year, the girls' fencing team finished its season without a loss, stretching its winning streak to 27 consectutive wins.

In state competition Coach Richard Perry's fencers were outstanding, capturing the Prep, Novice, Junior, and Women's Combination Team Meets. Janet Ryan and Janet Roberts finished one-two in the Prep Individual, Janet Ryan took second in the Novice field, Janet Roberts and Celia Leighton won the top two places in the Junior Individual, and Donna Hill garnered third in the Women's Intermediate.

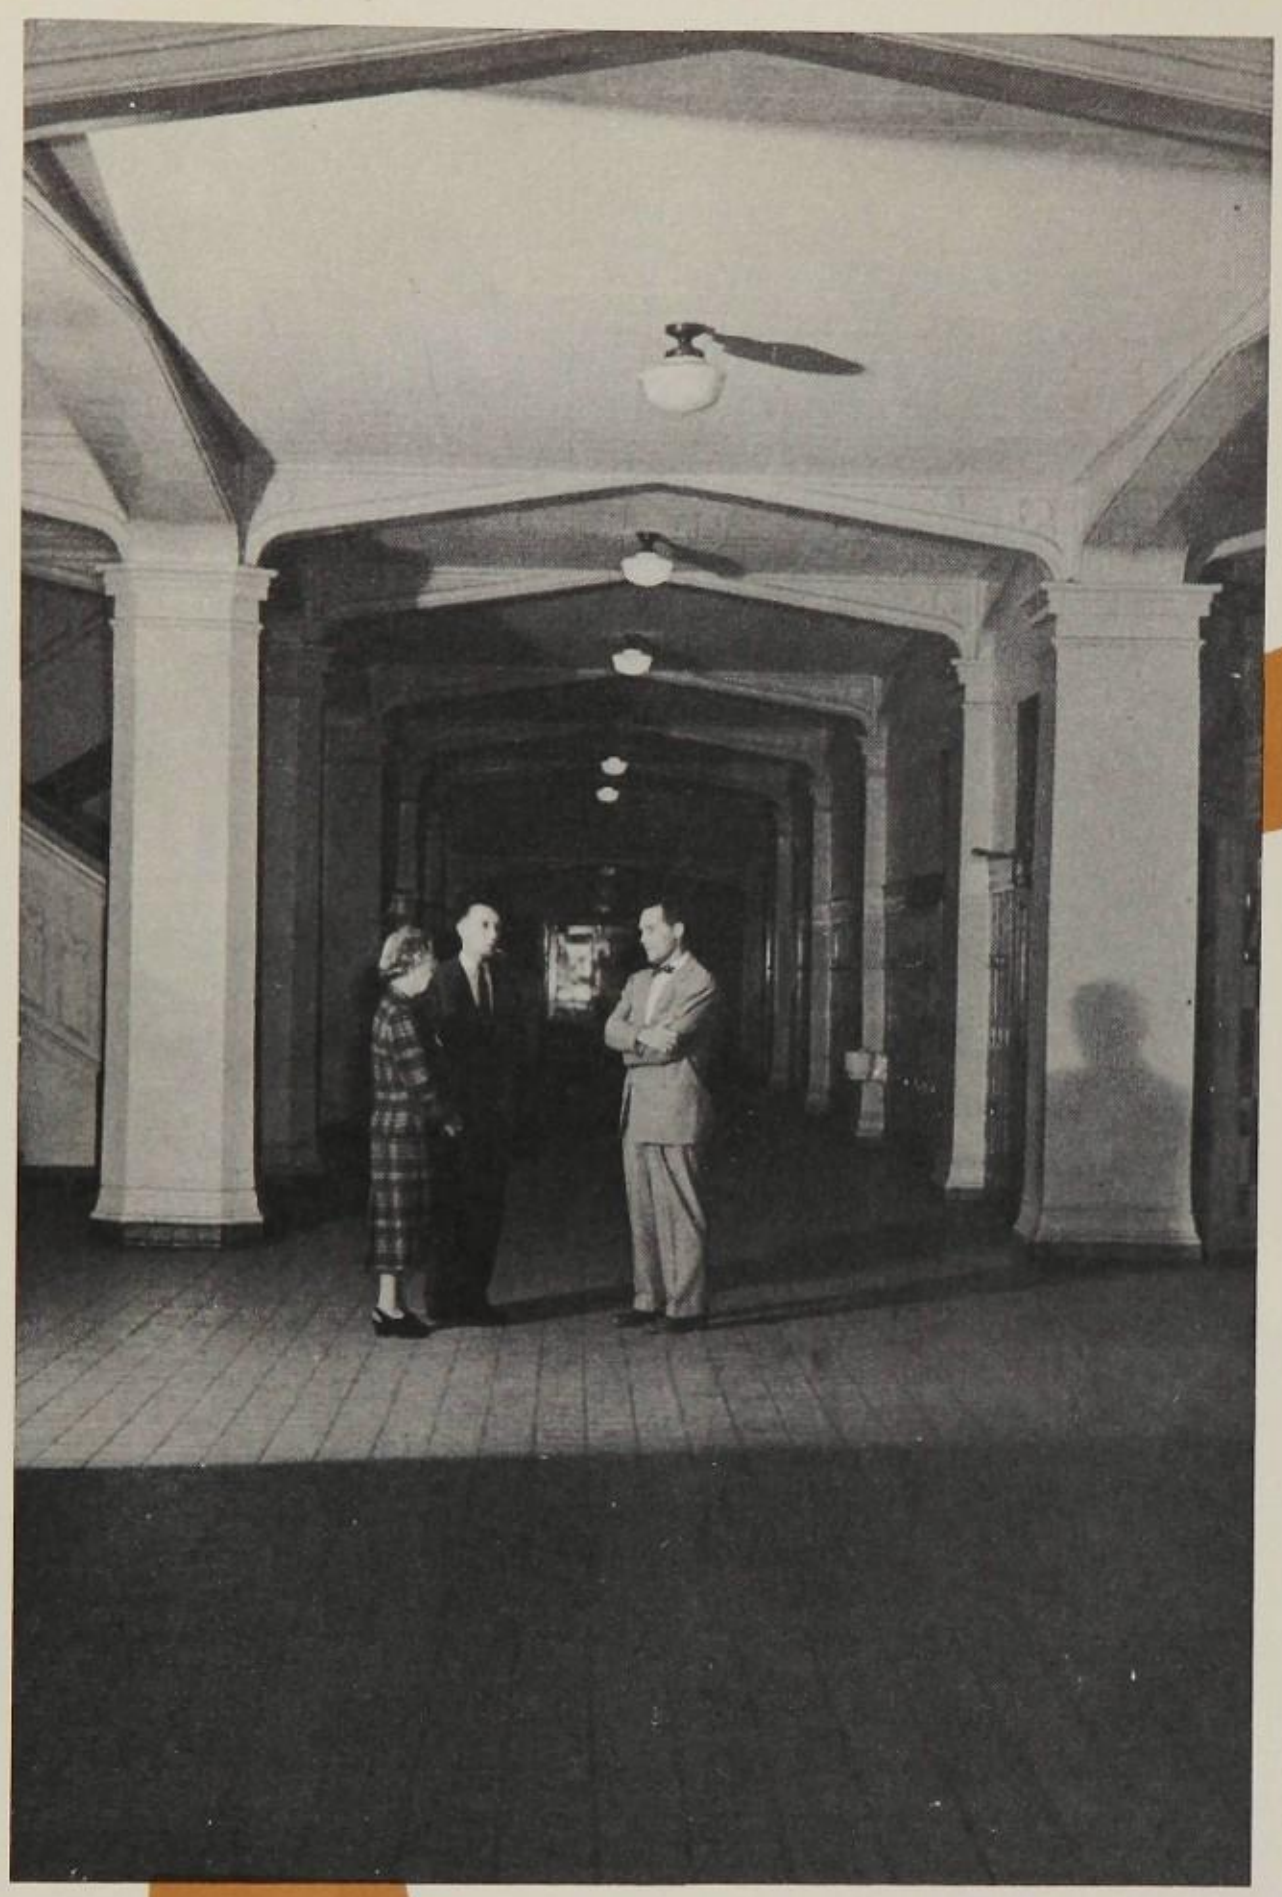
At the left are James Williams and Donna Hill, both of whom are the Michigan 1951 High School Individual Champions. Proving to be one of HP's brightest fencing stars, Jim has won medals in foil, sabre and epee competition, while Donna qualified and fenced in the National Fencing Championships held in Detroit last June.



FACULTY

. . . . . those who have helped us to find and enjoy the opportunities made possible at Highland Park.
We thank you for your help and guidance and, most of all,
your faith and confidence in the better things
this younger generation IS coming to.

Administration

Senior Counselors

Always ready with a helping hand, senior class counselor Miss Pauline Harris has guided the class of January 1952 to a solution of its many problems.

The senior class of June, 1952, will be forever grateful for the pleasant and helpful aid of class counselor, Miss Ann Solomon.

93 Ounces of Progress

No one could ever call a typical 1880 telephone operator light-headed. Especially when she had her headset on—all six pounds six ounces of it.

That 1880 headset, though, was a good piece of equipment—the best of its day. But with its box-like transmitter and leather harness, it couldn't, by any stretch of the imagination, be called comfortable.

Today, of course, it's a different story. The telephone operator now wears a streamlined headset that weighs only nine ounces—93 ounces less than the 1880 model. It fits her like a new spring bonnet and makes her job as the "Voice with a Smile" easier than ever before.

And speaking of jobs, if you're graduating this year, and are looking for an interesting, important job, Michigan Bell may have one for you. Why not drop in soon for an interview?

We sincerely hope all your adventures will be wholly pleasant.

If you were to ask those who graduated, one, five, ten or fifteen years or more ago, we rather think they would tell you that both your adventures and your ventures will be more pleasant and more profitable when you have a bank account.

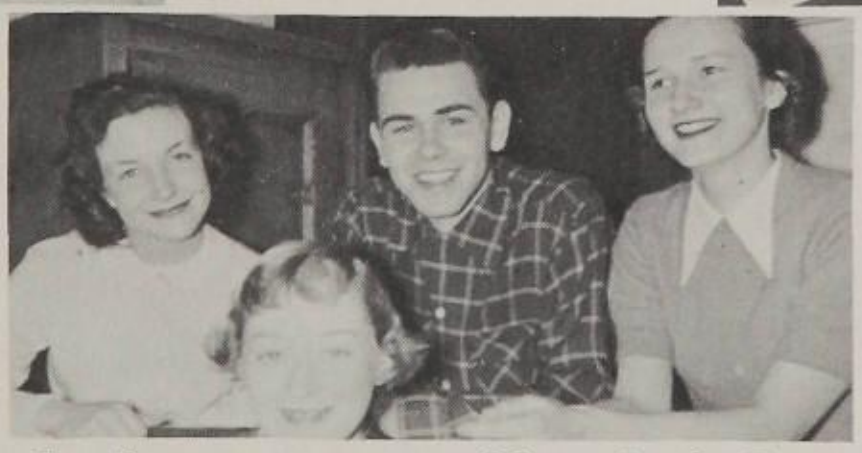
Forensic Club

Farewell



The past year has been a most successful one for the Forensic Club. We've come a long way together since last September, and we've done a lot. The club has worked hard and had some fun, too. And now that we are reaching the end of another school year, we find that many of the club's most valuable members are leaving. We are sorry to see them go, and know that they will always remember the good times we have had. Best of luck to all the seniors of 1952!
